

WHITE LIGHTNING ⚡
SEE IT ALL

satisfaction

You've got to take time to realize
What you've got there beneath your eyes

Emotion rushes in it burns it breaks
And you feel like there's no escape

This is the feeling that promises to fill
But I promise you it will not satisfy

Satisfaction wanting everything
Satisfaction missing what you need
Do you think that all that you desire
Will satisfy your soul

Will you take time to realize
What you've got there beneath your eyes

Turn from the feeling that burns and breaks
Know that you can always escape

Longing and wishing and wanting but missing everything
All that we have all that we know, I keep Longing and wishing and wanting but missing everything
One day I'll have one day I know I will satisfy

Will you ever fill it this way
You are always wanting more
You need it you take it and then you leave
Do you really think
That all that you desire
Will satisfy your soul

hold on

Stashing all our pictures away
Every emotion till this day
Frustration, passion, love
All forcefully kept at bay

Waiting just to see
If our personality
Will change to better mesh
Two lovers you and me

How long will I hold on
How long will I hold on

We know it won't work now
But is it just meant to be
We know it won't work now
But will we wait and see

Words and music by White Lightning

stand up and fight

As my heart, soul and mind
Begin to collide
I hold back the anger
Building up inside
I hold back with no form
No way of release
But the words of this song
That I stand up and sing

Do I stand up and fight
Or do what is right
Do I let this thing
Eat me up from inside
Do I stand up and fight
Do I do what is right

As my instincts tell me
To rage, hate and fight
But my heart still whispers
That just ain't right
But how can I just let this go When this dude keeps doing what I can't take so

Words and music by White Lightning

pride

You just put me over the top
Over the edge
I don't wanna stop
And I'll never give
But you gotta control Just can't give into this temptation

To rage
To hate
To fight
For nothing but your pride
Not your nation
Not for your true love
Not for nothing but yourself

And yourself
And your pride

Words and music by White Lightning
Savanah Bosch (additional vocals)

someday

We've been locked down, so defeated
Can we even see anymore
How were we meant to understand, through these distant shadows
I can feel the calm and can't avoid, the intensity in your voice

Oh, the intensity in your voice

We'll keep this calm, keep this pace
To know you, someday

You've always been here, where I thought that I could not stay And I can feel you changing this, despite the damage
Will I find out, just help me know today

comfort

When your heart feels heavy
And you wish
The morning would not come
To bring another day

When your world feels empty
And your night
Collides into your day
Bringing misery

I see your hurt love
I feel your pain
Won't you come here and feel my love for you

Won't you come here and feel this love
for you

Come into
These arms, and feel my love
Come into
These arms, I'll comfort you

Oh my love, listen closely
To the words that I will sing to you Everything is gonna be all right

If you come here and feel this love
for you

city lights

From out here the city lights look like
A blazing fire
Something that just keeps us close
The warmth's all gone to waste
To polluted better days

People that we used to know
And people we wished we knew better
Like the lines running inside your hand
I wanna remember them all
If you'd just say yes
Just forget what you used to be Just say yes
Cause now you with me

You're the flame that Rages inside this hollow existence
In this city of Broken hopes and dreams

Those three words like light from your eyes illuminate my mind
To things I've never seen,
I've never felt this

I'd trade everything in this place
For that one chance Your smile the grace that leaves those lips
The one's that make me
Hang onto every word every syllable lock it up

Are we going to take this and give it back Like we said we'd make this and break it all over again

Trying and lying is leaving my mouth dry
I cant stop, I cant take, I cant break

Caging and waging this war on ourselves
The fighting and hiding, just leaves us here to die

Run for protection, put an ocean between us Keeping the spaces wide, so we can cage it in

Lock it up and throw it away
Let the fear take over again
Lock it up and throw it away
Because our future's stuck in a cage

I wanted to be stronger but I no longer see The picture of happiness the things that we could be

Taking all this down and closing it up Sew up the sides and let my hope for all this die

Jimmy Rushton (bass & additional vocals)

see it all

I want to live the life
Of no regrets
Be free, live free
Know how to say no
And when to say yes

Congestion, digestion, frustration
I don't get it
I can't forget it
The way it was when we were young

Why did it have to change

I can't see it all
I can't have it all

It's the yearning, the burning
The unlearning in my life It's the running, the hiding and the fighting
In my life

I've lived trying and justifying Myself and my shame
Don't forget it

and them

Here they come they're gonna burn this place down
Run this whole city into the ground
Never let live till its done
Or stop for anyone
Taking no regard for another soul They charge on ahead till they're in control
What will they take this time

Here they come
They'll rock this place
Annihilate
And leave no trace
Here they come
Devoid of grace
When will they leave
This ain't their place

Here they come from a distant land
Not for the better but for the worse
Till death do us part
Us vs them vs you vs me

Does this war only perpetuate the same Same face just a different name
Intolerant of intolerance
This blind injustice

Oh we've got to
We've got to do it all again
Oh we've fought through Fought through every little war again

We have made it through this far
Oh, we can do it again
Over and over again

We will make it through Feel the warmth on the other side
Close your eyes and breathe
There is love in here
There is comfort and there is peace
There is love in here
There is joy and happiness

Words and music by White Lightning
Dan Bosch (Cello)

peace

Have peace fullness in silence
Close your eyes here and stay
Remember my love
Remember this day

Can we be together
Till the end of our day
Where we'll just have each other
The world will fade

Be with me in this moment
Feel the warmth in this love
Feel peace in this moment
Be with me in this love

Know I'll be here for you Know I'll never leave
Know I'll always love you
So stay here in peace

Have peace fullness in silence
Remember my love
